

November 2006

It has been nine months since this website was updated. A series of unavoidable events over this time period has caused both our webmaster, Andrew McFarlane, and myself to not have the time to put into the site. We hope to keep everything up-to-date going forward, and will strive over the next few weeks to bring this site to where it should be.

We do need your help, however. Review the features that we presently have and see if you can supply us with material for the various sub-pages. Additionally, if you can come up with a new feature please let me know. We'll see if we can work it in.

Once we get the current site up to date we want to begin to feature some actual exhibits. I would like to begin with one-frame exhibits that have received at least 85 points either at a National, Continental Federation or FIP show. Let's see how collectors have put together top quality single frame airmail exhibits. If you have one of these exhibits please scan it at 300 dpi and submit it to me as an e-mail attachment. Let me know the number of points that the exhibit achieved as well as the name, date and location of the show, and its level.

Elsewhere on this site you will be seeing the results from Washington 2006 and ESPANA 2006. While these exhibitions were totally different in style they both were outstanding. The Organizing Committees from both of these shows should be congratulated for a job very well done.
